

PROJECT PROFILE

Project Title: Completion of College of Tourism and Hospitality Management Building Phase III

Project Description/Objectives:

The College of Tourism and Hospitality Management (CTHM) at Caraga State University Cabadbaran Campus (CSUCC) is embarking on a transformative project to construct a state-of-the-art building that will revolutionize education and research in the field of hospitality and tourism management. The institution's demands and standards are no longer met by the current facility, which was constructed in the late 1980s. The new multi-story, environmentally friendly, and disaster-resilient infrastructure is designed to accommodate the growing student population, align with modern green technologies, and elevate educational standards. The project includes Culinary Laboratories, standard classrooms, a computer laboratory, mock rooms for practical exercises, a learning resource area, and an audio-visual room. This initiative goes beyond constructing a building; it's about creating a hub of learning and innovation, adhering to sustainability and government codes, and enhancing delivery of instruction and research. With objectives ranging from feasibility analysis to empowerment of marginalized communities, the project aims to significantly contribute to the development of the Caraga Region.

For this proposal, the building is aimed for 100% completion, fully equipped with all the necessary laboratory facilities as mandated by CHED requirements.

University Strategic Objectives/ Thrusts and Priorities Addressed:

The strategic objectives for the College of Tourism and Hospitality Management (CTHM) building construction project are focused on raising educational standards, meeting increased capacity needs, fostering sustainability, adhering to gender and development principles, and empowering vulnerable communities through education and training.

The thrusts of the project include the establishment of modern laboratories, creation of versatile learning spaces, integration of cutting-edge technology, and a commitment to environmental sustainability. These priorities address the project's feasibility, industry readiness, accreditation standards, enhanced delivery of instruction and research, and community empowerment, collectively forming a comprehensive plan to advance education and research in tourism and hospitality, while contributing to regional development and sustainability.

Output Indicators:

These output indicators focus on concrete milestones and measurable outcomes to ensure the project's success and impact.

- 1. Completion of Building Construction
 - Indicator: 100% completion of the building structure as per the construction timeline.
 - Measurement: Final inspection and turnover report.
 - 2. Availability of State-of-the-Art Culinary and Baking Laboratories
 - Indicator: Fully operational culinary and baking laboratories equipped with modern tools and technology.
 - Measurement: Inventory check and certification of lab readiness.
 - 3. Availability of Modern Classrooms and Learning Spaces
 - Indicator: Fully equipped modern classrooms and learning spaces designed for effective learning.
 - Measurement: Inspection reports, student feedback on facilities.
 - 4. Readiness of Facilities to Empower Marginalized Communities
 - Indicator: Programs and facilities tailored to support marginalized communities.
 - Measurement: Program enrollment data, community feedback, and participation reports.

Outcome Indicators:

These outcome indicators capture the lasting contributions of the project to education, research, sustainability, and regional development, aligning with its strategic goals and fostering long-term benefits.

1. Elevated Educational Standards and Improved Research Capabilities
 - Indicator: Enhanced student performance, increased research output, and greater industry readiness.
 - Measurement: Academic performance metrics, publication and research data, graduate employment rates, and industry feedback.
2. Contribution to Sustainability
 - Indicator: Reduction in the institution’s environmental footprint through eco-friendly building operations and resource management.
 - Measurement: Energy consumption audits, waste reduction reports, and sustainability certifications.
3. Adherence to Gender and Development Principles
 - Indicator: Promotion of inclusivity and equal access to education and facilities for all genders and marginalized groups.
 - Measurement: Gender participation statistics, facility accessibility reports, and inclusive surveys.
4. Empowerment of Marginalized Communities
 - Indicator: Provision of quality education and vocational training programs tailored to the needs of marginalized communities.
 - Measurement: Enrollment data of marginalized groups, training program effectiveness, and community impact reports.
